Naturopathic medicine is a system of healthcare that takes a natural approach to assessment, diagnosis and treatment with a focus on prevention, restoration and health maintenance. Naturopathic doctors (ND) assess the whole person, taking into consideration the physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual aspects of the individual. Gentle and non-invasive therapies and treatment approaches are used to stimulate the body's inherent healing capacity.

Your naturopathic doctor will take a thorough medical and health history and answer any questions that may arise throughout the treatment process. A physical exam, specific blood and/or urinary laboratory reports may be used as part of the treatment work-up. Your ND will exercise judgment during the course of your treatment that is in your best interest, based on the facts that are known.

A number of different approaches may be used throughout the treatment process. Naturopathic modalities include:

- Diet & lifestyle counselling
- Clinical Nutrition
- Botanical Medicine
- Traditional Chinese Medicine & Acupuncture
- Homeopathy
- Hydrotherapy

It is very important that you inform your ND immediately of any disease process from which you are suffering and any medications/over-the-counter drugs or supplements that you are currently taking. Please advise your naturopathic doctor immediately if you are pregnant, suspect you are pregnant or if you are breast-feeding. Caution must be taken in some physiological conditions such as pregnancy and lactation, very young children, people with diabetes, heart, liver or kidney impairment and/or with people taking multiple medications. Dr. Amy Punké, ND is trained to handle emergencies, should the need arise.

Health risks associated with naturopathic medicine include, but are not limited to:

- aggravation of pre-existing symptoms during the healing process
- allergic reactions to supplements or herbs
- pain, bruising or injury from intramuscular injections, acupuncture
- fainting or puncturing of an organ with acupuncture needle
